

dailypress.com

Letters to the Editor

Business leader

April 19, 2010

As the mayoral campaign hits full swing, let's make note of a few distinctive things about McKinley Price's campaign.

We notice that signs are appearing where before only the most conservative candidates' signs have historically appeared. The reason for that is that business leaders across the city recognize the vision that McKinley Price will bring to the city. Economic growth, optimism and a welcoming hand to business are essential for Newport News to move forward.

We must maintain a strong school system, a strong police force, a strong fire and rescue team, and a bright, committed team of city employees. We must help all neighborhoods solve the growing crime problem. If we can do this while holding down taxes, it will ring in a new day for the city of Newport News.

McKinley Price is the clear choice to lead us through these next four years.

Bruce Hitt
Newport News

Copyright © 2010, Newport News, Va., Daily Press